Data kept in the EORI database

The Customs Administration will ensure that your EORI number and other company information is entered into the EORI database of the European Commission. The information in question is listed below. The customs authorities of the member states of the Union can consult this database to verify whether an EORI number does exist.

Other economic operators can also consult this database to verify whether your EORI number exists.

The following information is kept in the European Union's EORI database:

- 1 The EORI number
- 2 The full name
- 3 The place of business/residence: the full address of the place where the person is established/resides, including the identifying characteristic of the country or area (ISO two-letter country code)
- 4 For economic operators headquartered outside of the Union's customs territory: is there an establishment within the meaning of article 5 (definitions 31 and 32) of the Union Customs Code, in coded form (yes/no)
- 5 VAT identification numbers, if these have been assigned by a member state
- 6 If applicable, the legal form as stated in the deed of incorporation
- 7 The incorporation date or, for a natural person, the date of birth
- 8 The type of entity, in coded form, within the meaning of article 5, paragraph 4 of the Code. The relevant codes are:
 - natural person
 - legal person
 - an association of persons
- 9 Contact information: name of the contact person, address, and telephone and/or fax number and/or e-mail address
- 10 For persons not established in the customs territory of the European Union: identification numbers assigned to the person involved for customs purposes by the competent authorities of the third country that has entered a mutual administrative assistance agreement in customs matters. The identification number or numbers must contain the identifier of the country or area.
- 11 If applicable, the main economic activity, coded at four-digit level according to the Statistical classification of economic activities in the European Community (NACE), as included in the register of companies of the member state involved
- 12 The date of expiry of the EORI number, if applicable
- 13 The economic operator's AEO status, if applicable

RSIN/BSN

RSIN is the abbreviation of Rechtspersonen en Samenwerkingsverbanden Informatienummer. Upon registration at the KVK (Netherlands Chamber of Commerce), all Dutch legal entities such as BVs, associations and foundations, VOFs and maatschappen receive a KVK number as well as an RSIN. You can find this number on your KVK extract.

One-man companies do not receive an RSIN. They enter their BSN number (burgerservicenummer or citizen service number) at question 1d.
